Multicultural day

We are excited to share a recap of our Multicultural Day celebration at our facility. It was a colorful event that captured the diversity in culture, language and ethnicity that exists within our resident and staff cohort, reflecting multicultural Australia. Residents and staff embraced the occasion by dressing in traditional attire that represented cultures that they affiliated with. This contributed towards showcasing the unique beauty of different cultures. Our tastebuds were treated to a delightful array of international cuisine including biryani, Staff also shared information about their cultural backgrounds which provided insights into their lives and beliefs. It was a wonderful education for all, and we do thank them for their contribution. There was also music from around the world. While it was a fun day, we all learnt a little about the beautiful ways in which we are different from each other and to value these differences.

Charlie entertains:

Residents were thrilled to have Charlie entertain once again. The room was filled with joy and activity as Charlie played her guitar and sang songs that brought back memories for many. There was an expression of emotion- both laughter and tears- as these memories were relived and the past made present. We look forward to many more musical events. Dates are noted within this newsletter.
