Career Objective

To secure full-time/part-time employment in an organisation that creates and promotes good work ethics, safety, and sustainable opportunities for its employees.

Skills and Abilities

I have a high level of communication skills verbal and written. I am a team player and work well with all people including those from diverse backgrounds. In addition, I am very empathetic with good healthcare skills.

Personal attributes

I am a good listener and I always spare an extra minute if need be. I work hard to find a solution to a problem because I find great joy in assisting people in need of assistance. I am honest, confident, well organised, and professional in conducting my duties. In addition, I show support and respect to both patients and work colleagues regardless of their ethnic background. I am patient, pay attention to detail, own up to my errors, and always look forward to learning new skills.

Academic achievements

In 2022, I attained a certificate in disability support worker.

I am a second-year student registered nurse currently enrolled in the Bachelor of Nursing at Western Sydney University.
